Rockwater Announces Senior Leadership Changes

HOUSTON – July 19, 2013. Rockwater Energy Solutions, Inc., a water management and environmental solutions provider to the oilfield industry, announced today that Holli Ladhani, former Executive Vice President & CFO for Rockwater, will be assuming the role of Executive Vice President - Chemical Technologies. Holli will be taking over the role previously handled by Doug Hayes, former Senior Vice President - Chemical Technologies. Mr. Hayes will be leaving the company to spend more time tending to family matters.

“We want to recognize all of Doug’s contributions to Rockwater since he joined the company in February 2012,” commented Larry O’Donnell, Chairman, President and CEO of Rockwater. “His efforts to make Rockwater a great company and a great place to work are much appreciated.”

Rockwater also announced today that David Nightingale has been promoted to Executive Vice President - Water Management. David joined Rockwater in April 2012 as Senior Vice President - Water Management. This change in title is to recognize David’s exemplary performance and leadership in this segment of Rockwater’s operations.

Rockwater also announced today that Cherie Rice will be joining Rockwater as its Senior Vice President & Chief Financial Officer. Cherie most recently served as the Vice President- Finance & Treasurer for Waste Management, a $13 billion Fortune 200 environmental services company, where she was responsible for overall capital management, risk management, and internal performance reporting. Cherie began her 27-year career at Waste Management as an Accounting Manager, and progressed through roles of increasing responsibility, including Regional Controller for Arizona & Southern California, Group VP & Controller, and VP of Investor Relations. Before joining Waste Management, Cherie was a Financial Analyst for Tektronix, Inc., in Oregon. Cherie obtained her B.A. in business (Summa Cum Laude) from the University of Oregon.

O’Donnell concluded, “I am excited about the quality of the team we have at Rockwater, and feel confident of our ability to build the leader in water management and environmental solutions to the oilfield.”
